FOSTER, MORGAN STRESS 'FACTS' ON SCHOOL NEEDS

Superintendents Richard L. Foster and Edward D. Morgan laid the facts on the line today as the "Bonds for Building" citizens' committee bore down for an unprecedented push for "yes" votes in the critical school bond election here Tuesday, February 7.

Housing for fantastically heavy enrollment in both Jefferson high and Jefferson elementary school districts by 1965 and 1967 is at stake. Eligible to ballot are registered voters of Daly City-Westlake, Broadmoor, Colma, Pacifica, Bayshore and Brisbane—adults whose youngsters either will gain or lose via the outcome.

This will be a "one shot" election although two school districts are involved. There will be two ballots—one for the high school district and another for the elementary.

Jefferson Elementary District, presently with 18 schools and two under construction, total enrollment 8400 youngsters, seeks voter approval on $2.8 million in local bonds and a state-loan grant of $7 million, to obtain local and state funds to construct seven new schools and additions to four schools by 1965 in order to adequately accomodate an expected total district enrollment of 10,800 pupils.

Jefferson High School District, covering all of Daly City, Broadmoor, Colma, Pacifica, Bayshore and Brisbane—seeks voter approval of $4 million in local bonds, plus a new state loan of $1.5 million to obtain funds, local and state, to construct needed classrooms for 3627 new students, expected by the school year of 1967-68. High school district enrollment now (Jefferson, Westmoor and Oceana) is 3646. By 1967 the district's total student population will be 9125.

No other school districts in San Mateo County have experienced such phenomenal growth in student population as have the two Jefferson districts, headquartered in Daly City.

Official figures show that in 1944 the Jefferson Elementary District had 1249 students. Ten years later the district had 4279 students! Four years from now the total will approximate 10,800!

Likewise, Jefferson High school district's growth has been no less than sensational—a challenge to administrators, teachers and parents who want no less than average classroom opportunities.

The high school district, initiated in 1922 with 45 students, had 1049 pupils in 1952. Today the number is 3646, and this figure will be almost tripled by 1967—the period covered by the February 7 election.

School bond issues have never failed in Daly City, and the "Bonds for Buildings Committee," ordinary citizens headed by Westlaker Robert Smice, sees no reason why local voters would oppose "the progress that is necessary and can be made possible by positive votes on February 7."

"Uppermost in the minds of citizens," said Smice, "is taxes and doubt about how approval of school bonds on February 7 would affect their taxes."

Will property taxes increase if residents vote "yes" on the school bonds?

"No" say the school superintendents and Smice.

Why won't property taxes increase if people approve the bonds and state aid?

"The answers are very simple," Smice explained. "First of all, by state law, school bond monies can be used only for capital outlay expenditures—new classrooms, school furniture and equipment, school sites, architect fees, and repair of permanent structures. No bond monies can be diverted to operational expenses or salaries of employees. Likewise, any bond monies voted for the elementary district must be used in the elementary district, and funds approved for the high school district cannot be used for any other district.

"State law has established for elementary school districts a maximum repayment tax rate—for both local bonds and state bonds combined—of 45 cents per $100 assessed valuation. Residents of the elementary district are paying this now,

'Celebration' Planners Meet

Committee planning Daly City's golden anniversary celebration will meet again next Tuesday morning, January 17, at 7:30 o'clock at Westlake Bowl, Mayor Frank Pacelli revealed today. Reports will be made by the individual chairmen and coordinators Chuck Vincent and Ramona Birke.

The city's 50th birthday is March 11, and the week-long celebration is slated next October. There will be a big parade, fireworks, queen contest, scores of exhibits and special demonstrations. Participation of the entire community is urged.

SHADES OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC?

AUGUST CONCI, Daly City parks superintendent, watches over 25 new palm trees which will be planted on Mission street January 15. Shipped from Midland, Texas, and valued at $3300, they will supplement the 18 palms "installed" last November. The batch seen here are being kept under a constant spray of water to retain freshness. Conci says that the trees, approximately 40 years old, will total 51 when the final shipment arrives.

TRUSTEES REPEAT FREEWAY REQUEST, STATE 'UNDECIDED'

Jefferson Elementary school board last week in official action ordered a letter to the state, confirming the school district's request that the east-west freeway lateral—presently up for final adoption by the Highway Commission—be shifted southeast of Christopher Columbus School site and not be built north of the school.

JESD officials, two weeks ago, met in special session with State Highway district engineers R. A. Hayler and J. A. Spence to discuss re-location of the lateral. The state has yet to commit itself as to whether it would approve the shift—from north of the school along Clarinada avenue, St. Francis Heights—although serious consideration is being given the school board's proposal, it was learned today.

Superintendent Richard L. Foster said trustees based their unanimous stand for shifting the lateral southeast of the school site, "even if it takes an acre off the present school site, on the fact that the present lateral, north of the school, would be undesirable because it would separate the youngsters who attend Columbus from the school if a freeway and underpass are constructed."

The school board's decision last week reiterated its position on November 15 last year in a letter to the state director of public works. At that time the trustees went on record for the lateral shift south of the school "as more desirable from an educational standpoint."

McKeon Corporation, developers of St. Francis Heights, also has asked that state to modify the east-west lateral—requesting that it be shifted south of the school and "out of Daly City."

Daly City councilmen, who several months ago approved the state proposed Junipero Serra and east-west freeway routes through Daly City, have indicated any shift in the east-west lateral would have to be initiated by the state.

Final action on the east-west routing, after study of the school district's proposal, is expected within the next month from state highway officials in Sacramento.

Improvements To Westlake Avenue To Cost $35,000

Plans for a $35,000 project to widen and improve Westlake avenue—from Mission street to Niantic—were approved by Daly City councilmen Monday night.

Since Westlake avenue is classified as a major city street, property owners on the five-blocks of Westlake to be renovated will not be assessed "a single penny," reported City Engineer Bill Chapman. City gas tax funds will be used to pay the bill.

Westlake avenue, presently 30 feet wide, from curb to curb, will be widened five more feet on each side, and curbs and gutters and parkways will be "corrected."

Bids will be opened on February 8 at 2 p.m. in the City Clerk's office, City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue. The contract calls for 40 calendar days.

By the end of this fiscal year, in June, the city will have completed four major east-side street projects — $24,000 for Mission street, $22,000 on Thiers street improvements, the $35,000 Westlake avenue under-

FBI Agents Nab Local Auto Thief

FBI agents picked up an alleged member of a Florida car theft ring in a downtown San Francisco restaurant Saturday, after a week of careful sleuth work in the north County area.

The suspect, identified as Jessie K. Lighter, 33, had attempted to dump a stolen 1960 automobile on a Daly City car dealer last month, but escaped before police arrived at the scene. A female accomplice and her infant child, accompanying Lighter, fled to Oregon after the incident, but according to police she has been traced since and arrested.

Larry Robinson, salesman at Gateway Chevrolet, 7400 Mission street, told Daly City police that on the afternoon of December 30 a "customer" who identified himself as Tony De Carlo arrived with a 1960 Chevrolet convertible which he said he wished to turn in on a used automobile. Robinson became suspicious when De Carlo told him he was from Rutland, Vermont—the car carried Vermont license plates—yet, had a clear title from the Department of Motor Vehicles in Lompoc, California. When Del Carlo provided him with a number of Vermont "credit references," Robinson telephoned a certain Rutland bank and was told the suspect was "unknown" there.

After the phone call De Carlo announced that he had lost his ignition keys. When Robinson affirmed he didn't have them, the suspect threatened to call the police.

Hearing this, De Carlo ran out, leaving the car behind him. At that point the salesman actually notified Daly City police.

Sergeant Charles Terry and Officer George Brooks went to the Motorville Motel in Broadmoor, where De Carlo told Robinson he was staying, and found that the suspect was registered there, along with a woman and child, but under the name of Scott. De Carlo, alias Scott, was absent, but the car he'd evidently arrived in was parked in front of his cabin. Officer Brooks advised the National Automobile Theft Bureau in San Francisco and learned that the car was "hot" out of San Francisco.

Brooks then alerted Broadmoor chief of police Ray Savage, and a local FBI agent, who revealed that the suspect's real name was Jessie C. K. Lighter, wanted for car theft and passing bad checks. He was identified as one member of a Florida car theft ring. Members of the ring are known to "rent" automobiles from "drive-yourself" agencies, re-register them in other states, then attempt to sell them.

The car left at Gateway Chevrolet was found to be owned by a St. Louis, Missouri, rental agency. Suspect Lighter, under still another assumed name, had picked it up in Vermont last fall.

Frankfort St. Work Awarded To Lowest Bidder At $29,422

Bragado Paving Company has been awarded a $29,422 contract for improvements to Frankfort street between Acton and Oliver, an assessment district project shared by owners of 35 parcels of property, including the city.

The work will take approximately 40 days and will commence in about two weeks.

Councilmen had a choice of only two bids Monday night. The unsuccessful bidder was Kunz Paving Company at $29,662.

The city engineer's estimate of the cost totaled $28,352, including 10 percent for contingencies.

The assessments range from $912 to $1022 per lot, Chapman said. The city owns eight of these lots and California Modern Builders is planning eight new homes on the north side of Frankfort. The latter firm's request for use permits were denied earlier because the plans for the project had to be redrawn.

The one-block strip of Frankfort will be regraded and resurfaced, and curbs, gutters, water, storm drain and sanitation hookups will be installed.

In other agenda matters, the council accepted the notice of completion on the new $10,499 pre-fabricated building at the city corporation yard, granted use permits to an Francisco Motors for a used car sales

Cab Zone Shifts Once More---This Time To Bepler

A petition signed by 11 merchants on the west side of Mission street prompted Daly City councilmen Monday night to again re-locate the Yellow Cab zone at the top of the hill.

The merchants protested the cab firm's recently authorized new parking zone in front of 6288 and 6290 Mission as detrimental as it limited customer parking space.

The council, which only last month asked the cab company to abandon its zone on Hillcrest drive in front of Kirchhubel's tavern, said Yellow Cab is agreeable to setting up a new zone near the post office on Bepler, behind the cab company's present "waiting" area.

Parking meters were returned to the former Yellow Cab zone on Hillcrest and two more will be installed in front of 6288 and 6290 Mission.

City Manager Edward Frank said Yellow Cab will make this "final" switch within two weeks.

Councilmen, Audience Get Welcome Relief ... New PA System!

"Speak louder . . . we can't hear you back here."

So many times this has been the outcry of council meeting-goers at Daly City Hall.

But no more.

Last week a $1100 new public address system and tape recorder were installed in the council chamber.

Councilmanic conversations and pronouncements from now on should be loud and clear.

As most council followers will testify, the old public address system had its "ups" and "downs," mostly the latter. A long-time fixture, the old equipment seldom worked, causing the audience to interrupt the city fathers many times and politely demand "repeat that please." The councilmen likewise suffered by straining to make their voices carry all the way to the rear of the 200 persons capacity room.

The new PA system, budgeted for last year, was installed by Custom Electronics as Hank Weisner, city electrical inspector, stood by and learned its intricacies.

It includes 10 microphones—one each for the five councilmen, and others for the city manager, city attorney, city clerk, city engineer, and of course, the speaker's rostrum.

All of these "mikes" can be hooked up to the stereophonic, high fidelity tape recorder. The latter device can record up to four hours of conversation and has four "tracks." The council may utilize the recorder for important major discussions, and the portable machine also can be put to good use by city officials in handling daily office procedures.

The old public address system is being repaired and will be kept for use by other city departments for various official and public service functions.

Citizens may check out the merits of the new equipment by attending the council meetings—held the second and fourth Monday evenings each month, 8 p.m. at City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

Even better would be a "habit" of attending city council meetings regularly to witness local government in action.

CHECKING out new public address system are Phil Brown, assistant city manager, and Muriel Mermon, police department clerk.

Rockstein Quits School Board, Moving South

Dr. Robert Rockstein, Pacifica optometrist and a member of the Jefferson High School District Board of Trustees since October, 1959, announced his resignation from the Board Monday night.

In a letter to Edward D. Morgan, District Superintendent, Dr. Rockstein explained that he will be moving to San Diego February 1 where he will resume practice with Dr. Samuel Kassell of that city.

Rockstein, who lives at 1051 Granada drive, Pacifica, with his wife and two young children, will also be resigning as president of the San Mateo County Optometric Society and as a member of the Pacific Industrial Development Corporation and local Lions Club.

Superintendent Morgan announced that Rockstein's vacancy on the school board would be filled in three months, as the result of the April elections. The remaining board members elected at that time will take office in June.

Daly City Donates $100 To Capuchino

Daly City councilmen Monday night voted a $100 donation to the Capuchino High School band fund for the group's trip to the inauguration parade January 20. The city's contribution will come from unbudgeted reserve funds, City Manager Edward Frank explained.

Vandals Cause $1000 Damage To Tractors, Truck

Unknown vandals invaded a construction site at the northeast end of Bellevue avenue last weekend and caused an estimated $1000 damage to 12 "Caterpillar" tractors and a water truck parked there.

The equipment, belonging to Buzz Haskins Equipment Company, South San Francisco, has been used for grading a section of land recently annexed to Daly City. Workmen reporting Monday morning found the tractors' fuel lines broken and wires pulled, and windows and mirrors of the truck smashed.

Lions Club Sets Dates Of Annual 'Youth Art Exhibit'

The annual "Youth Art Exhibit," sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Lions Club, will be held April 4-9 at War Memorial Community Center, Lions President George Glass announced today.

Elio Fontana, high school trustee from Colma, and Stanford Hannah, former high school superintendent, are co-chairmen this year. Lions Ray Charette and Lyal Ingersoll will coordinate arrangements and supervise placement of the entries.

The free exhibition, rapidly gaining recognition as one of the Bay Area's best, will feature the work of local public and parochial school youngsters. The many categories include arts, crafts, and photography.

and cannot pay more legally. By the same token, state law has established for high school districts a maximum repayment tax rate—for both local bonds and repayment of state loans—of 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation. So, regardless of how residents vote February 7, the bond taxes of both districts will remain the same as they are now—there will be no additional taxes."

Some residents might ask, "If I vote no on school bonds will my taxes decrease?"

The answer to this, direct quotes from Superintendents Morgan and Foster, is a definite "no, your taxes will not decrease if you vote no on the school bonds."

Why? Well, both school districts already are committed to repay their present local and state bond loans—at the same rates until 1990.

Do the state funds have to be paid back?

Yes, but only to the extent that the district can afford to reimburse the state fund after local bonds are retired.

According to Morgan and Foster, if this dual bond election fails, the consequences will be: "double sessions just around the corner—by 1963 or 1964, some or all of our high schools will be on double sessions."

Another question that is pertinent to the school election is how much money is available for school construction at the present time—in both the Jefferson elementary and high school districts?

Morgan, high school district, reports "money is available to complete the first increment to Oceana High in Sharp Park

Every President of the United States from Theodore Roosevelt to Dwight D. Eisenhower has addressed the Commonwealth Club of California in San Francisco.

(ready for students late in 1962), the first increment to Terra Nova High in Pacifica (due to open next September), the second increment to crowded Westmoor High in Daly City, and an almost $2 million renovation project at ancient Jefferson High on Daly City's Mission street. When all these projects are completed, the high school district will be able to house 5498 students.

Foster, elementary district, reports: "Money is now available to complete Christopher Columbus (corner of Skyline and St. Francis boulevard), Margaret Pauline Brown in St. Francis Heights, a new seventh and eighth grade school (west of Junipero Serra boulevard), an addition to Benjamin Franklin School, and to acquire a site in the Crocker hills for a new elementary. When these projects are completed, the district's funds will be exhausted.

The last two paragraphs depict the status quo.

February 7 will determine the immediate future.

Finalized Morgan and Foster: "We think the facts are substantial and the public will intelligently realize the importance of yes votes on election day.

Chairman Smice concluded his weekly progress report on the citizens committee with the enthusiastic statement: "Over 1000 people and many groups have endorsed the school bond proposals to date and we've just begun a campaign that is picking up more momentum each week."

taking, and $10,000 in "piecemeal" improvements on smaller streets.

The council Monday night, in an equally significant action, approved an agrement with the state for use of $6500 in Daly City gas tax funds towards the total cost of traffic signals at the Junipero Serra-Eastmoor avenue intersection. The state and county are working out final details of this project which includes the installation of a short road connecting San Fernando Way to Eastmoor and the closing off of San Fernando Way at Junipero Serra.

Total estimated cost of the signals and channelization is $25,000. Daly City officials initiated the signals drive 18 months ago following the urging of many residents. The intersection has been the site of many major traffic mishaps the past two years.

VANDALS SMASH CHURCH WINDOWS

Unidentified persons have smashed several windows of Westlake Lutheran Church on Avalon drive over the past two months.

The latest act of vandalism was reported last Thursday morning by Mrs. Marion Phelps, Church secretary, who told police that "someone" broke three windows on the south side of the building, probably between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Police believe the damage was caused either by rocks or "B-B" gun.

NICKEL

Alone or in various alloys, nickel resists corrosion and imparts strength, retains its properties under extreme conditions of heat and cold, and has many other valuable characteristics for specialized uses.

Burglar Ransacks Vacant Home Of Daly City Mother

A selective burglar, apparently bored with such items as cameras and furs, but attracted by $1 bills, went on a careful room-to-room tour of the home of a Daly City mother last Friday and escaped with what police described as a "heavy load."

Mrs. Marie Mathiew, 39, returned from work to her 80 West Cavour street residence at 5:30 p.m. to find that the house had been methodically ransacked. Her two children who had come home from school two hours earlier, had noticed then that the clothing in their dresser drawers had been rearranged, but hesitated to call police until their mother returned.

Investigating officers determined that the suspect must have gained entry through an unlocked kitchen window. Once inside, he scooped up a single $1 bill and a "fifth" of imported French brandy.

He then pursued the following course, according to Mrs. Mathiew: through the dining room, where he picked up a typewriter, the living room, from which he removed a portable phonograph, but left a number of records, after reshuffling them; to a rear bedroom, where he passed up a fur piece and camera in place of a garnet birthstone ring, taken from a drawer; and finally through the basement, from which he could have taken some clothing, but didn't.

Police feel the suspect must have made several trips or had an accomplice assisting him.

Mrs. Mathiew, who hasn't indicated the value of the missing items, said she ordinarily returned home for lunch each day but that this time she'd decided to "eat elsewhere."

VOLKSWAGEN LATHERED

Though they may be "made by Elves in der Black Forest," Volkswagens, car-owner Robert Chamberland knows well, do not grow whiskers. He was therefore a bit perturbed when he returned to his parked 1959 "VW" last Monday evening to find it covered with a heavy lather of shaving cream.

Chamberland reports that the cream—of the spray variety—marred the enamal and caused considerable damage to the convertible top. The car had been parked on Forest Grove drive near Fairway drive.

POTENTIAL MURDERER?

Two Palisades residents expressed concern when they found identical letters in their mail boxes last Wednesday, reading:

"Dear Mr. and Mrs.—You will be killed tonight at 12 p.m. Signed, Killer."

A Daly City police officer went to the homes of Elmer C. Hilberg and Mrs. Thomas R. Wells, of 52 Montebello drive and 48 Montebello drive, respectively, and examined the notes. After a careful study, the officer concluded that in view of the spelling and handwriting "this appears to be the work of a person approximately eight years old."

Weekend Burglar Steals Equipment From School Closet

Several pieces of athletic equipment were stolen from a Woodrow Wilson School closet sometime last weekend. According to police, a burglar gained entry to the closet, located at the north end of the school building, by prying the door-latch with a knife.

Taken were two footballs, a tether ball, and equipment for a yo-yo tournament, all property of the Daly City Parks and Recreation Department, and valued at $25.

PIGGY BANK THEFT

A young Westlake couple returned to their home at 9 Wilshire avenue Saturday night in time to hear a burglar's footsteps on the floor above them, but the fleet-footed intruder climbed out of a window, ran along the roof, jumped to the ground and finally escaped over a back-yard fence.

Resident Jack B. Rose, 29, told Daly City police he pursued the burglar for two blocks in vain. The Roses found that their house had not been ransacked but that the suspect, a husky man wearing a jacket, managed to pick up a "Hibernia" piggy bank containing $2 in coin.

Public Invited To Open Hearing On Fare Revision

The Public Utilities Commission will hold a public hearing at 2:00 P.M., January 24, 1961, in Room 282, City Hall, San Francisco, to consider the advisability of setting a date for a formal hearing in the matter of a possible revision of the basic Municipal Railway 15 cent fare to a 20 cent fare, or, such other fare revisions as may be offered.

All interested parties are cordially invited to attend and present their views.

BURGLAR GETS NO FARTHER THAN BATHROOM

Melvin Dubin, 42, owner of Dubin's Men's Shop Store, 6272 Mission street, suffered $50 in property damage when an unknown person tried to enter his shop over New Year's weekend, although, Dubin reports, nothing was stolen.

The would-be burglar forced his way into a washroom in the rear of the store, but was unable to get any further because the bathroom door was padlocked.

Damage was to the window glass and screen.

Rev. Lynn Hodges Greets Members Of Ministerial Assn.

The first meeting of the Daly City Ministerial Association this year took place last Tuesday morning at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church with Rev. E. Clark Roble, newly elected president of the group, presiding.

The Association, which now has 17 churches represented, is engaged in strengthening the spiritual and ethical values of thousands of people who reside in our area.

On the agenda that morning was a report by Rev. Lynn Hodges, chairman of the Religious Committee, which will represent the 17 churches at the 50th anniversary of the founding of Daly City. According to the report, the date of the anniversary has been postponed to October of this year.

The annual Brotherhood Week observance this year will be under the chairmanship of Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie from February 19 to 26.

Rev. Hillis E. Davisson, who was assigned to write a message about Brotherhood in the local papers suggested "that members of the association start building a solid front within our social order and that we re-examine our spiritual values. Let us speed the idea of Brotherhood for a much longer period than just for one week."

A suggestion by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore that members of the Association be represented in our local paper's weekly messages, in order to voice our feelings and opinions on social justice as we Americans experience it in our daily living, was favorably accepted. He was appointed as chairman of the project.

The coming World Day of Prayer observance was discussed by Rev. E. C. Roble, who is dealing with the undertaking.

The meeting was closed with a short prayer by Rev. Thomas E. Belvin.

Mother Hurt In 'Escape' From Husband

A terrified 33-year-old mother fractured one of her legs when she jumped from a second-story window last week in an attempt to hide from her husband.

The victim, Mrs. Louise Fontenot, of 318 Bellevue avenue, told police shortly after the incident New Year's night, that her allegedly estranged husband Hayward, 35, had threatened her earlier in the day. She said that following the threat, Fontenot, who lives in San Francisco, had driven up to his wife's house and sat for some time in the parked car "holding a gun."

He eventually drove off, but toward evening, according to Mrs. Fontenot, returned and proceeded to drive up and down the street near the house. Frightened, Mrs. Fontenot gathered her two children into a rear bedroom, then attempted to escape by leaping from a window into the back yard. In jumping she lacerated and fractured her leg.

When Daly City police officer James Doran arrived at 11:52 p.m. to investigate, Fontenot had left the scene. Asked how she knew her husband was armed, Mrs. Fontenot said "certain friends" had told her he often carried a gun. She added that in April, 1960, she had signed a warrant charging him with assault and battery.

Mrs. Fontenot did not elaborate on the nature of the threat, but said it was perpetuated by her husband's wanting custody of their three-year-old daughter Stephanie. The child now lives with her mother in Daly City.

1-DAY SNOW TRIP IN STORE FOR D.C. GIRL SCOUTS

Junior high school age Girl Scouts are going to the snows again. This exciting event has become an annual affair and each year the Girl Scouts look forward to it eagerly.

Mrs. Blanche Button, chairman for the outing (she's been chairman every year), announced that the trip will be on Saturday, February 11. Two large overland Greyhound buses will transport the girls and their adult leaders to and from Squaw Valley, again the destination this year. Round trip fair will be $8 and should be paid to troop leaders.

The buses will leave at 3:30 a.m. from the Memorial Building in Daly City and return the girls the same evening at 9:30 p.m. Warm clothing should be worn and at least a change of clothes brought along. Waterproof things are best, along with mittens, snow caps, heavy sweaters and galoshes. A shopping bag of all the food that they can carry, should be brought by each girl. The bus will make one stop for breakfast at the Pine Cone Inn at Sacramento. Any snow sports paraphernalia, such as ice skates, toboggans, sleds, skis, etc., may be brought along. The buses will carry all of this equipment. Approximately 80 Daly City Girl Scouts and eight adult leaders plan to go on this outing. The snow is plentiful this year and a lot of fun is in store for the youngsters. Last year, the Girl Scouts were at Squaw Valley during the VII Olympic Winter Games and were able to see the practicing athletes from many foreign countries.

Author To Address Friends Of Library

The Friends of the Daly City Library will present noted Bay Area author, Mark Harris, at their general meeting Tuesday, January 17, p.m. at the new library on Southgate avenue. This general meeting, for which there will be no charge or donation asked, will be the first program presented in this new building which has only recently been completed.

Harris, who has combined the career of author with that of teacher of creative writing at San Francisco State College, does not intend to speak from a prepared text but will build his talk around a series of questions relative to the problems and rewards of a writing career.

At one time he "wanted to be so famous that people would send me questionnaires." Now, when he does receive them, he doesn't like to fill them out. "There is nothing I can say which will explain myself. To some extent I have said what I know in my books." In an essay entitled "Easy Doee It Not" from the "Living Novel" (1957) he contends, "the kind of writing I like to do is very economical and very subtle. The more economical and the more subtle one becomes, the fewer people there are to talk to."

COUCH DESTROYED IN $100 BLAZE

Charles Herndon of 205 Palmcrest drive called the Fire Department at approximately 1:30 a.m., shortly after the bolster of the couch in his apartment started burning.

A battalion chief called to the scene reported that Herndon appeared to be "lucid, and a responsible type of person." The chief added that the fire was probably caused accidentally by a lighted cigarette.

Lions' Annual Youth Speakers Competition Brings Scholarships

Elio A. Fontana, chairman for the Daly City-Colma Lions Club "Youth Public Speaking Contest" announces that this activity is underway.

Miss Mary Ann Holden of Westmoor High School and Rudie Tretten of Jefferson High School are the participating teachers who will present students from their classes to compete. This is one of the important Lions' activities. These students will speak at the local club and receive awards. From there the winners advance to district-level competition.

The purpose of the contest is to provide an opportunity for competitive public speaking among students on a subject of vital interest to the contestors and to the American people as a whole. The topic is "Our National Heritage — Pattern For Today."

Further purposes are to stimulate self-expression and independent thinking, to present to the public and to the student speakers the problems surrounding the maintenance of this commonwealth as a free nation; and to consider the means of meeting present and future world problems.

The contest is open to students of any accredited high school or junior high school. Specifically, grades nine through twelve are involved. The student speakers' contest involves the zone presentation which will be in early March. The winners will go from zone to the regional level, and those fortunate, to the district contest.

The winning students in the District Four contest will receive a scholarship of $1500 to any accredited junior college, college, or university. The winner will be allowed five years from the date of the award to use this scholarship. The three students tied for second place at district level each will receive a scholarship of $500 to any accredited junior college, college, or university.

Banker Forecasts 'Mild Dip' Early This Year... Then Stronger Economy

First Western Bank and Trust Company's president, Mont E. McMillen, sees a mild dip during the first two quarters of 1961 followed by a shift during the second half of the year toward a more buoyant economy.

"I do not expect any very dramatic change in the economy during the coming year, however, after a slow start, we should expect a moderate but steady improvement," McMillen forecast.

Where signs of lag, drop-off and stand-still are easy to find McMillen looks to California's exceptional record of growth, its quick recuperative powers, and the diverseness of its economy to give the State a good year.

Residential housing, stimulated by a somewhat greater supply of mortgage money, should be up moderately before year-end. It will, however, lack the tremendous backlog of demand which was seen immediately following the War. On the other hand, industrial and commercial building should show considerable strength.

Capital expenditures by business as well as inventories may show a moderate decline during the year. Consumer buying, especially in the fields of non-durable goods and services, should show a moderate increase.

There are other signs which indicate that California is off to a healthy 1961 start. Gross farm income is at an all-time record high. The cotton crop was the best in history and retail auto dealers in California are leading all other states in volume sales.

The California Chamber of Commerce indicates that by July, 1961, a total of 15,850,000 people will have settled in California. The pressure of population growth, especially the tremendous number of post-war babies who will soon start entering the labor force, cannot help but effect the demand for consumer and capital goods.

"Especially," McMillen states, "California and the nation are in a period of economic transition between the extremely active 1940-1955 period and the decade of great growth and prosperity which appears to lie ahead."

Letters To The Editor

Resident Proposes World-Encircling Religious Crusade

Dear Editor:

World peace is uppermost in the minds of people everywhere. To achieve it, political, economic and cultural programs between nations are being advocated. These programs are good as far as they go, but do they go far enough? Experience seems to indicate that they do not. If not, what does?

In previous ages religion has brought warring peoples together: the Semitic tribes; Jews, Gentiles and Barbarians, and the wild tribes of Arabia. Why can't religion do it again?

If the sincere Christian or Jew, for instance, could distinguish the fundamentals of his own faith from its outward observances and man-made rituals, he'd be better able to sense the same fundamentals in, say, the Islamic, the Buddhist, and Hindu faiths. This knowledge will enable him to close ranks in his own faith and unite with kindred souls in other faiths in acknowledging and serving God in one universal cause, one common faith.

This process of uniting mankind is the very nature of religion. The word itself means to re-align . . . to bind together again . . . the hearts and minds of men. Today this process must be world-encircling. How else can we build a foundation firm enough for universal peace?

There is one faith that believes this is so—the Baha'i World Faith. Right now there are Baha'is in over 255 countries including the United States, even in Daly City, who believe it so strongly that they have been participating in a ten-year crusade, to end in 1963, advocating the fundamental oneness of the world's great religions as the bedrock for universal peace.

Very truly yours,

'Daly City Players' Praise Newspaper For Helping Group

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

We wish to thank The Record and the Westlake Times for the publicity and support given our first two productions . . . "The Tender Trap" last July, and our recent production of Noel Coward's "Hay Fever."

We are especially grateful to reporter D. R. Murchie for his considerate and constructive criticism of "Hay Fever." We have used his review as the basis for our own critical post-mortem of the production and hope to profit thereby.

It is our hope to give the same valuable service to the community in our field that The Record and Westlake Times now do in their own. Your continued support and critical appraisal will aid us immensely.

Again, thank you.

They are Howard F. Stites, 34 Northgate avenue, and James N. Gray, 1453 South Mayfair avenue.

The local boys, along with nine others from throughout San Mateo County, scored highest in the preliminary examination held November 12 last year. The final examination will be held in March.

The boy who scores highest in the final will be named by Congressman Younger for appointment to the academy.

A city of Daly City employee the past 24 years, Ford has been head of the water department since 1952. The 57-year-old Palisades resident is a member of the OLPH Church Men's Club, Marian Council Knights of Columbus, Fra Crespi Assembly of Redwood City, and is past president of the Daly City-Colma Eagles, Aerie 1848. 9 ENDORSED BY CENTRAL DEMO GROUP

Nine persons were endorsed for federal and state appointments at a meeting in San Bruno of the San Mateo County Democratic Central Committee.

"It's extremely gratifying that 35 persons attended this first post-election meeting," said Daniel J. Monaco, committee chairman. "It demonstrates a resurgence in our party."

Monaco announced that, for the first time, a continuing research bureau was being established under the direction of Mrs. Norton Benner of Hillsborough. The purpose will be to maintain files on the voting records of legislators from San Mateo County for use in future elections.

The committee donated $25 to Capuchino High School band for its trip to the presidential inauguration. The money was given as a memorial to the late Marion Kent, a life member of the committee.

The endorsements were: San Bruno postmaster, Frank C. (Clay) Fisher; Pescadero postmistress, Mrs. Dessa Pinkham; Federal Aviation Agency, Phil Ice of San Mateo; Deputy U.S. Marshal, John Lockhart of San Francisco; Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, Richard Conlon of San Francisco; California Youth Authority, A. C. (Bud) Harrison of South San Francisco; State Personnel Board, Edward Heavey of Burlingame; State Board of Health, Mrs. Gregory Davis of San Mateo; and State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, Dr. L. Howard Fenton of Menlo Park.

Have 'Extra Duty'

Two Daly City officials are away this week on professional pursuits.

Councilman Joseph Verducci, 118 Wilshire avenue, is attending the American Football Coaches Association meeting at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Later this week Verducci, athletic director at San Francisco State College, will be in Miami, Florida, for the annual conference of the NCAA Football Rules Committee.

Councilman Bob St. Clair, 76 Forest Grove drive, is in Los Angeles, training with the West squad for the National Football League's annual "Pro Bowl" game this Sunday. St. Clair, an eight-year veteran of the 49ers, was named to the NFL's second all-star team last fall.

MORE BLOOD NEEDED HERE

Daly City Rotarians today issued another reminder about "Blood Donor Day" here on Friday, January 20, at Westlake School, located at Fieldcrest and Lake Vista.

Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank's "Bloodmobile" unit will be at the school from 3 to 7 p.m., and all adults wishing to build up blood bank reserves are urged to donate.

Persons desiring to give blood may fill out appointment cards at the Jefferson High School District Office, 375 South Mayfair avenue, Room 214, Westlake Shopping Center. For more information concerning the Blood Bank call PL 5-1162 or Rotarian Bo Lehman, PL 5-1143.

Lehman said individuals and groups who donate later can ask the Blood Bank for blood for local emergency causes. There is no time limit on these requests, he emphasized.

At least 100 donors are needed here January 20 "if this project is to be a success," Lehman concluded.

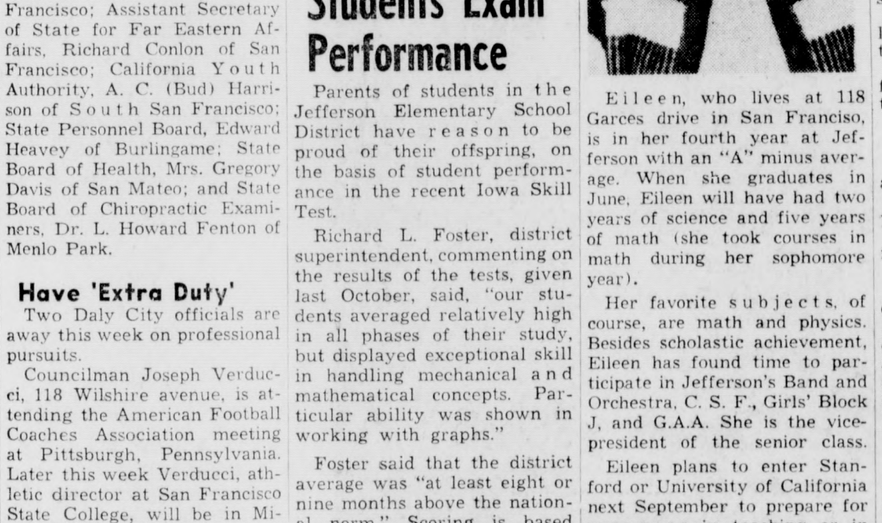
Foster Lauds Students' Exam Performance

Parents of students in the Jefferson Elementary School District have reason to be proud of their offspring, on the basis of student performance in the recent Iowa Skill Test.

Richard L. Foster, district superintendent, commenting on the results of the tests, given last October, said, "our students averaged relatively high in all phases of their study, but displayed exceptional skill in handling mechanical and mathematical concepts. Particular ability was shown in working with graphs."

Foster said that the district average was "at least eight or nine months above the national norm." Scoring is based upon how many school months a student appears to be behind or in advance of a given satisfactory average for his grade level.

The superintendent stated that local results of the nation-wide exam reflect the high quality of teaching in the district, as well as the fine caliber of the students themselves.



DALY CITY'S newest addition is George Washington K-6 School, located off Hanover street between Lowell and Whittier. Principal Fred Schweickhardt (center) and sixth grade teacher James Huff greeted first arrivals when the $527,000 building opened last week. The students, from Mrs. Margaret Clarke's fifth grade class, are Russell Runge, Jim McGaughy, Christine Dillon and Patricia Pastras. The school can house 480 youngsters from the eastern sector of the city.

W'laker Gets State-Level Appointment

Governor Edmund G. Brown has announced that Elton C. Lawless, a resident of Westlake at 83 Cliffside drive, has been appointed chairman of the State Industrial Accident Commission. Lawless has been on the commission two years. He is well known in legal and athletic circles.

The new chairman, a native San Franciscan, was educated at Commerce High School and St. Mary's College, from where he graduated in 1926. He received his law degree at University of California (Hastings) in 1929. He is a past president of St. Mary's Alumni Association. While a student at St. Mary's he was captain of the basketball team in 1925, and played end on the varsity football team under "Slip" Madigan.

Lawless was a practicing attorney for many years, specializing in personal injury cases. He later became chief trial lawyer under Brown when the governor was district attorney of San Francisco. He also held the same post under the present district attorney, Thomas C. Lynch.

Lawless is a member of the Olympic Club and of Fidelity Sterling Post, V.F.W. He is a combat veteran and served in World War II as a lieutenant commander in the Navy.

Prior to Lawless' appointment two years ago to the Industrial Accident Commission, he was associated in the private practice of law with Harold C. and Frank Brown, at 605 Market street, San Francisco.

Eileen Hawker Earns 'Best Student' Award

One of Jefferson High School's top students is senior Eileen M. Hawker. She recently received the Engineers' Week Award, presented by the Bay Area Committee for Engineers' Week to the outstanding student in science and mathematics at Jefferson.

Eileen, who lives at 118 Garces drive in San Franciso, is in her fourth year at Jefferson with an "A" minus average. When she graduates in June, Eileen will have had two years of science and five years of math (she took courses in math during her sophomore year).

Her favorite subjects, of course, are math and physics. Besides scholastic achievement, Eileen has found time to participate in Jefferson's Band and Orchestra, C. S. F., Girls' Block J, and G.A.A. She is the vice-president of the senior class.

Eileen plans to enter Stanford or University of California next September to prepare for a career in teaching or in chemical engineering.

SAGUARO

The giant saguaro cactus found around Phoenix in Arizona is reported by the National Automobile Club to stand some 30 to 40 feet high when it is full grown at an age of 150 to 200 years. At the age of 15 or 20, however, the giant-to-be is only about one foot high.

Son Of DC Policeman Excels In USAF Exam; May Attend College

The 17-year-old son of a Daly City police officer has been commended for his outstanding performance on an Air Force entrance examination.

M-Sgt. Phil L. Wells, of the local Air Force Recruiting Office, 6268 Mission street, reported last week that the youth, James J. Welsh, came out in the top 2 percent bracket among the young men who took the exam recently.

"Very few men qualify in the missile-mechanical area, the field in which Jim excelled," Wells commented. "In fact, over the years I have seen only four cases of such achievement."

James is the son of officer James (Jim) Welsh, Daly City Police Department, and lives with his family at 326 Templeton avenue. He is a 1960 graduate of Jefferson High School.

His exam performance makes his available for consideration as a college candidate—at the Air Force's expense. M-Sgt. Wells, on behalf of the recruiting office, has urged the youth to consider this offer.

James is scheduled to leave Friday for Texas, where he will begin his four-year term in the Air Force.

AROUND TOWN

By ROY HURLBERT

OVER in Brisbane, the bay-side burg, the homeowners really seem serious this time in talking incorporation.

Population there is over 5000 and some think it's about time the community were organized as a city.

One thing is apparent. The Brisbaners won't stand for annexation to another municipality.

They're known for their independence.

OPTOMETRIST Robert Rockstein submitted his resignation as a high school trustee this week.

Dr. "Bob" rendered exceptional service to Jefferson High School District. He's moving to San Diego from Pacifica.

Four high school trustee terms expire this summer. The April election, no doubt, will find at least two candidates from Pacifica. James Cooper, Rockstein's fellow townsman, is the lone trustee whose term doesn't end this year.

The high school board has fair balance. Chairman Lyal Ingersoll and Ann Eason are Daly City residents. Trustee Elio Fontana lives in Colma.

PLANS for Temple Judea's beautiful new sanctuary on Brotherhood Way in San Francisco are near the final adoption stage.

The Westlake-headquartered Jewish congregation has worked long and diligently toward the realization of this goal. More than eight years to be exact.

Rabbi Robert W. Shapiro, congregation president Max Rudorfer, and Municipal Judge Charles Becker couldn't be happier these days as their "dream" is approaching reality.

WHO says women dominate the schools?

Twelve of the 18 Jefferson Elementary District principals are men.

Could this mean that men muster more respect in supervising discipline?

Or is it that too many potential principals quit the classroom ranks for marriage and motherhood?

PERTINENT quote on education from the Citizens Advisory Commission's report to the California legislature:

"Distinguished teaching is an art, calling for the highest qualities of mind, character and personality. Persons of talent and ambition seek occupations in which excellence is recognized and esteemed. They seek security by virtue of their achievement. In a profession, there should be no upper limit of recognition for excellence."

In short, teacher salaries should be higher?

RECENTLY this paper carried the news that Don Delbon, the Brisbane lad who put Jeff High in the basketball headlines several years back, is serving in Germany and is due for Army discharge before summer.

Don's attractive wife will plane home from Europe soon. She's expecting their first child. The new daddy will teach at Terra Nova High in Pacifica when the new school opens this September.

Don attended University of Oregon and received his teaching credential at San Francisco State.

AN elementary school teacher forwarded this gem scribbled by a first grader for posterity:

"I am mad at my daddy. We had many white rats. But they were too much trouble. So my dad gave away all the females and kept only the pappa mouse and his two sons. But he killed the pappa mouse's wife. That's why I am mad at my daddy."

JUDGE Frank Blum, under the county's new superior court assignments, is now presiding in the weekly sessions at South San Francisco. There he and fellow Daly City resident, Charles Becker, muni judge, "talk shop" between cases.

Presiding superior judge in the county the first six months of 1961 is J. A. Branson. He makes the assignments and sets the calendars.

Judge Edmund Scott, the ranking judge now that 86-year-old Aylett Cotton has retired, is judge of the juvenile court this year.

Blum and judges Louis DeMatteis, Wayne Millington, and newcomers Frank Rose and James O'Keefe are handling general trial and pre-trial work.

South SF Seaman Aboard Icebreaker For 'Deepfreeze'

Robert Steadman, electrician's mate fireman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Steadman of 334 Altaloma drive, South San Francisco, is participating in Operation Deepfreeze '61 aboard the Coast Guard icebreaker USS Eastwind in the Antarctica.

Operation Deepfreeze is a scientific research program conducted by 12 nations in the ice-covered South Polar region.

The Eastwind's officers and crew were hosts to a visiting "emperor" flown in by helicopter, December 21, to inspect the ship and personnel. The emperor, formally dressed even in the below freezing temperature, nodded his head approvingly at various things he was shown aboard the icebreaker.

Following the inspection and a walk on the ice-pack next to the ship, he was helped aboard the helicopter and flown to his empire, 100 yards from the ship.

The emperor — an antarctic penguim—was the first in history to have had the distinction of a helicopter ride and a visit aboard an icebreaker all in one day.

'TREK THROUGH ALASKA' HEADS CHURCH EVENT

On Friday evening, January 20, the Audio-Visual Committee of the Commission on Education, Temple Methodist Church, will sponsor a "Fried Chicken Dinner" plus "A Trek Through Alaska," for the purpose of securing funds for the purchase of film strips, slides, films, and a film strip projector. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of the church, located at Junipero Serra boulevard at Nineteenth avenue.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults, and 75 cents for children under 12, and may be purchased from Mrs. Albert J. Howard, chairman of the Audio-Visual Committee, 1830 27th avenue, San Francisco, LO 4-1881. Tickets may also be purchased in the church office.

The pastor, the Rev. Lawrence K. Whitfield, will show slides and tell about his recent forty-day tour of duty with Air Force chaplains in Alaska. Whitfield left San Francisco on November 1, 1960, with a stopover at Tacoma, Washington. From there he went by military air transport to Anchorage, Headquarters of the Alaskan Air Command. He visited Ladd Air Force Base, Fort Greeley Army Post, and Eielson Air Force Base, which are near Fairbanks; as well as Elmendorf Air Force Base, and Fort Richardson Army Post, east of Anchorage. Whitfield returned to San Francisco on December 10.

THREE BIG NEW OCEAN CURRENTS ARE LOCATED

A recent research cruise of the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography off the west coast of South America has confirmed the existence of three major ocean currents predicted but not located before.

Warren S. Wooster, who led a scientific party aboard the vessel "Horizon" on a three-month expedition south of the Equator, says that the three currents are a sluggish, east-flowing surface current between five and ten degrees south of the Equator; a south-flowing current several hundreds of feet beneath the north-flowing Peru (or Humboldt) Current; and a north-flowing current system off Chile which is separate from the Peru Current, rather than the southern source of it, as had been thought.

The expedition received support from the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, the Office of Naval Research, the National Science Foundation and the Inter-American Tropical Tuna Commission. The findings will have significant bearings on the understanding of the distribution of the tuna off South America. Much of the American catch is taken there.

The results also mean that the present maps of the currents of the southeastern Pacific must be redrawn, Wooster says.

Christian Science Leader To Speak At South SF High

The need for a fuller understanding of divine law will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given here by James Watt of Washington, D. C., on Friday evening, January 27.

Watt, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak at the high school auditorium, 400 "B" street, South San Francisco, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, South San Francisco. His subject will be "The Logic and Consistency of Christian Science." The lecture is free, and local members have invited the public to attend.

JAMES WATT
... SSF speaker

Former manager of the Washington D. C. office of the Christian Science Committee on Publication, Watt has traveled widely. During World War II, he served as a chaplain in the Army.

A graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology, he was formerly associated with various engineering companies in the United States and abroad. Later he was director of research and Western manager for The Advertising Checking Bureau, with headquarters in Chicago. Since 1942 he has devoted his full time to the practice of Christian Science healing and to the service of the Christian Science organization.

'Air Force Week Events Postponed

M-Sgt. Phil L. Wells, of Daly City's Air Force recruiting office, announced late last week that the city's local "Air Force Week" events had been postponed for an indefinite time.

"Air Force Week," as announced in this paper last week, had been scheduled for January 9-15, but due to the non-arrival of certain weapons and other items for displays, must now be held at a future time. McSgt. Wells did not disclose why the equipment had been delayed.

Incomparable Harlem Globetrotters Ready To 'Rock' Cow Palace Again

Basketball's merry-madcap Harlem Globetrotters have added something new to the laugh provoking surprise kit they'll unpack at the Cow Palace, Friday night at 8 o'clock.

"Three shows in one," is the way owner-promoted Abe Saperstein of the internationally famous court magicians describes it.

Here's the lineup of attractions entertainment-minded hoop fans will watch with the regular serving of the Globetrotters' razzle dazzle, passing and ball handling legerdemain rolled in between.

1. The swinging "Hi-De-Ho" singing star, Gab Galloway, heading an all-star revue also including the Les Marthys from Paris, acrobats extraordinary, the clever Parry Kids of trampoline fame, and Jacques Cordon of Belgium, 11-year veteran of Trotters shows returning with his novel unicycle-juggling act.

2. Four of the world's international table tennis champions —Richard Bergmann of Great Britain, Norikazu "Cannonball" Fujii of Japan, Bernie Bukiet of the United States, formerly of Poland, and Rene Roothcrofth of France in singles and doubles matches that are part of a series for world's pro crowns and tournament prizes totaling $21,000.

3. A crack opponent for the world troupers in the rangy Washington Generals, next to the Globies perhaps America's strongest traveling quintet with an array of sharp former college stars.

4. The unimitable Harlem Globetrotters with one of the finest squads of cage performers and showmen in the colorful team's 34-year run.

Two brilliant newcomers have been added to the comical array of veterans in Govoner Vaughn, Illinois U., and Frank Burks from Wisconsin.

Both have earned supporting roles in a peerless unit comprising the zany mad-hatter Meadowlark Lemon; Murphy Summons, the dribbling marvel; set shot specialist Clarence Wilson; six-foot, eight inch Joe Buckhalter; and Charles "Tex" Harrison, Jack Fitzpatrick and Ernest Wagner, a trio of chuckle-provoking holdovers. Reserve seats for the show on sale at Crane Box office, 245 Powell street, DO 2-4566. Tickets all available at the Cow Palace.

Facts On Income Tax

If your itemized deductions are less than 10% of your adjusted gross income you should claim the standard deduction or use the tax table.

If your income is between $5,000 and $10,000, take 10% of your adjusted gross income. However, if it is over $10,000, your standard deduction is limited to $1,000. If you are a married person filing a separate return, your standard deduction is limited to $500.

If your income is under $5,000 you must use the tax table to gain the benefits of the standard deduction. You can not deduct 10% of your adjusted gross income. The tax table automatically allows you 10% in lieu of itemized deductions.

It will ordinarily be better to itemize your deductions if you are a homeowner paying interest and taxes, or if you make large contributions to recognized charities, or if you have unusually large medical expenses during the year.

If you or your wife file separate returns and one elects to itemize deductions, the other must also itemize. One spouse cannot file a long form 1040 or 1040W and take all the deductions and the other spouse file a form 1040A or take the standard deduction or use the tax table.

You are expected to pay your income tax on the basis of the lowest figure possible; therefore, you should choose the form that results in the lowest tax for you.

Westlake Oldster Honored By Senior Citizens Group

A feature of the January 4 meeting of the Westlake Senior Citizens Group was a birthday surprise for 85-year-old Mrs. Lillie House. Mrs. House, a former school teacher, is a native of Lawrence, Kansas. She is still active and has entertained the group at a number of their meetings with her readings of humorous and well-loved poems. Mrs. House resides with her son and daughter-in-law at 95 Baldwin avenue, Westlake.

A number of interesting special events are scheduled for this group of Westlake residents that are over 50 years of age. Plans were formulated for a used goods and bazaar-type sale to be held in the springtime. Detailed plans will be announced later.

Everyone is welcome to join this enthusiastic group that meets each Wednesday from 10:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the basement social room of the Westlake Community Baptist Church, located one block west of the new library, at Southgate and Elmwood.

The group is non-denominational. Discussion, handcraft work are featured in the morning, followed by a luncheon with each person bringing his own sandwiches. Cake and coffee are furnished. The afternoon period has been used for more handcraft, group singing, visiting and games. Anyone desiring further information may call Alyce Madsen at Pl 5-2630.

Psi Epsilon Unit Reports On Holiday Charity Projects

Psi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, South San Francisco, held its first January meeting at the home of Mrs. Gino Pettinari, philanthropic chairman. She reported on the Christmas turkey, toys and gifts the chapter gave to the Nutting Nursing Home. Tray favors also were given to Kaiser Hospital.

Social chairman, Mrs. C. M. Sheridan, reported on the Christmas party at the home of the president, Mrs. Raynard McCormick, where gifts were exchanged and "secret sisters" revealed. Mrs. Frank Slone presented each member with a pair of poinsetta earrings (which she had made) with the secret sisters names hidden in them.

Plans were discussed for the chapter's January husband-wife social, a pot-luck and dancing.

The cultural program for the evening was given by Mrs. Kenneth Massar. It was entitled "Music Into Drama and Dance."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John McDowell.

SF Theater Group Will Perform French Play

"The Interplayers," a San Francisco theater group, have announced that their production of Sardou's comedy, "Let's Get a Divorce," will be given at the Bella Union Theater, 825 Kearny street, San Francisco, beginning Friday, January 13.

The play is set in France at a time when the divorce laws were being passed. What can happen in that happy country of love is summed up in a sparkling collection of topsy-turvy incidents between Monsieur and Madame (Henri and Cyprienne des Prunelles) and their friends (Clavignac and Adhemar).

"Let's Get a Divorce" was translated into English by Berkeley residents Angela and Robert Goldsby, and will be directed by Leon Forbes.

Key members of the cast are Walter Mahoney, Caroline Wiley, Cyril Clayton and James Stack.

Those interested in reservations may call SU 1-9909.

'CHESTMOBILE' WILL BE AROUND MORE OFTEN; SCHEDULE LISTED

The Christmas Seal Chestmobile will make it easier than ever for the public to get free chest X-rays in 1961, it was announced today by William Montgomery, case finding director of the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

"In the past, we have made two complete tours of the county each year," he explained. "During the winter months, and again in the fall, we would start at the north end of the county and work our way south, stopping from one to ten days in each town, depending on the size of its population. If a person missed our visit, he'd have to wait six months for another one.

Montgomery said that exact times and places where the mobile unit will stop during the next six months will be announced later. Meanwhile, to illustrate the Chestmobile's greater availability, he released the following dates scheduled for each community in the county:

Daly City — February 6, March 7, and April 11; South San Francisco — January 10, February 7, March 8, and April 12; San Bruno—January 11 and March 9; Millbrae — February 8; Burlingame — January 12, February 9, March 10, April 13 and 14, and May 22; San Mateo — January 23, February 23, March 28, and May 24 and 25; Belmont — to be scheduled in the spring; San Carlos—March 29; Redwood City—January 24 and 25, February 24, March 30, April 27, and May 26; Menlo Park — January 26; East Palo Alto—March 31 and April 28; Woodside—June 23; Pacifica—June 6, 7, and 8; Half Moon Bay—June 29; and Pescadero—June 21.

Montgomery said that a similar schedule would be worked out for the fall. Meanwhile, visits to industries will be sandwiched between the set-ups for the general public. Teachers and other school employees will continue to be x-rayed in the fall, he concluded.

COLMA STUDENTS VISIT OAKLAND'S PUBLIC MUSEUM

Three classes from Colma K-6 School recently took a field trip to the Oakland Public Museum on Lake Merrit. The three classes were Mrs. Busetto's third grade, Mrs. McKeown's third and fourth grade and Miss Blaylock's third grade.

One of the outstanding features of the study trip was the exhibit of Indian cultures. This included the local tribes, as well as California, southwest and northwest tribes. Even the Lapps were exhibited.

Other excellent exhibits were those on Colonial kitchens and Colonial bedrooms. There was also a fine exhibit of early California costumes.

Of interest to the nature enthusiasts were the fine displays of California rocks and birds.

The highlight of the trip was a demonstration by Claude Saskevaya, a Hopi artist, who was engaged by the museum during the month of December. While there he carved and painted Kachina dolls (ceremonial dolls) and wove decorative belts of wool. He spoke to the children, explaining his work and its meaning. When the classes sang songs for him, he sang Indian songs in return.

The children found the trip offered them the opportunity to use map reading skills and observe transportation in the San Francisco Bay area. Each child carried a map and sheets that pointed up the features in the exhibits which had been discussed in class.

The room mothers accompanying the classes were Mrs. Fred Mortara, Mrs. F. Tardelli, Mrs. R. Thompson, Mrs. M. Cuneo, Mrs. R. Whitney and Miss Kay Phelps, student teacher assigned to Mrs. McKeown's class.

County Veterans' Service Chief Relays Some Worthwhile Advice

San Mateo County Veterans' Service Officer, Floyd D. Granger, today suggested to veterans in this area that there are some New Year's resolutions worthy of their serious consideration.

"As a starter," he said, "I wish every veteran reading this would jot down the address and telephone number of the San Mateo County Veterans' Service Office. The address is the Courthouse in Redwood City, and the phone number is EMerson 9-1441, Ext. 221.

"That goes for dependents and survivors of veterans, too. They especially should check with us on whether they are receiving all the benefits to which they are entitled under federal and state laws."

Other resolutions suggested by the service officer include:

1—Consider converting your GI term insurance to one of the six permanent plans offered by the VA, because the premium payments on term insurance will begin to rise sharply as you grow older.

2—Make sure the beneficiaries listed on your GI policy are up to date, so that those who deserve the proceeds will get them. Names must be changed on the policy itself; they cannot be changed by your will or any other means.

3—Consider applying for the disability income "rider" available on GI insurance policies, offering income protection at low cost.

4—If you are a qualified California veteran, resolve to establish your eligibility for a Cal-Vet loan, even if you have no immediate plans to use it. You might still be eligible for educational assistance, too, and also may want to establish your right to civil service examination preference.

5—Has your dischange ever been registered with the County Recorder? This is important, especially to your family in future years when your original dischange may be lost or stored away and forgotten.

BERKELEY BAPTIST DIVINITY QUARTET TO PERFORM HERE

The Berkeley Baptist Divinity School male quartet will provide a program of sacred music Sunday morning at the Westlake Baptist Church, Southgate and Elmwood streets in Daly City. The quartet is composed of David R. Beals, of Franklin, Pennsylvania; Larry Armstrong, native of Cheyenne, Wyoming; William Wilburn, from Canada, and Frank Byrdwell Jr., from Fresno. Whenever their graduate work schedule will allow, this quartet sings in major cities and churches on the Pacific Coast and throughout the mountain states.

The service begins at its regular time, 10:55 a.m. The public is invited to attend, according to the pastor, Lynn Hodges.

Your contribution is still needed, so send checks to the Cap Parade Fund, San Bruno, California, please! It's tax deductible!

It's News To Vets

Q—I sold my GI home and got a release from liability from the VA for any future payments. Am I now eligible for another GI loan?

A—You may or may not be. Release from liability does not automatically restore eligibility for another loan. It is restored only under certain conditions, such as selling your home because of health reasons, moving to another area for a better job, etc.

* * *

Q—Under the old death compensation program, the widow of a deceased peacetime veteran received less than the widow of a wartime veteran. Is this true under the Survivors Benefits Act?

A—No. The Survivors Benefits Act provides for equal payments for widows of both war and peacetime veterans.

Q—I haven't received my insurance premium notice envelopes from the VA. What should I do about the payments?

A—By all means, keep sending the premiums into the same VA office when they become due, just as you have in the past. But be sure to include your full name, address, and your insurance number. You'll find that on your policy. It will help to identify your payment.

Q—I am the widow of a recently deceased World War II veteran. He never used his entitlement for a GI loan. Am I eligible for this benefit?

A—Only those unremarried widows of World War II and Korea veterans who died in service or, following service, died as a result of a service-connected disability are eligible for GI home benefits.

Researcher Says Automation Of Business Is Near

New "thinking machines" now under development will one day automate entire business organizations, including positions held by high-level management, a University of California researcher believes.

When this happens, today's teeming office buildings will become automated centers staffed by only a handful of supervisory and maintenance personnel, said Edward A. Feigenbaum, assistant professor of business administration on the Berkeley campus of the University.

Feigenbaum directs a graduate research training course entitled "Simulation of Human Learning and Thinking Processes in a Computer."

"There is an underlying set of human mental processes with which people learn and solve problems," he said. "We want to duplicate these processes in a machine."

And rapid progress is being made along these lines, he added.

"There seems every reason to believe that machines will be able to do almost anything human beings can do now in a non-mobile kind of job," he explained.

"Business organizations ought to be considering the day when the technical capability will exist to automate and replace virtually everybody in a business organization. We are moving quickly down the road of intelligent machines.

"While so-called blue-collar workers were the first to be affected by automation," he explained, "the new thinking machines seem destined to cause a scientific and industrial revolution among white-collar workers. Machines will do high level problem solving and not simply the routine, repetitive accounting and clerical jobs that present day computers are doing," he declared.

The experimental course directed by Feigenbaum is being financed through a grant to the University from the Social Science Research Council.

You Must Stop When School Buses Show Flashing Red Lights

"The flashing red lights on a school bus actually are designed to speed up traffic by lessening the number of stops for other vehicles," California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden stated this week.

"Far from being a hindrance, the lights indicate to cars approaching from both front and rear when a stop is required. Before the flashing red signals were installed on school buses, drivers of other vehicles were required to stop whenever the bus halted," he pointed out.

"This resulted in a number of unnecessary stops, and caused some traffic tie-ups. Adoption of the flashing red lights was intended to smooth out traffic flow by reducing the number of mandatory stops."

The law provides that the school bus operator must activate the flashing red lights when he stops to load or unload children who must cross the street on departing from or to reach the bus.

Drivers approaching from either direction are required to stop upon viewing this flashing red signal, except that on a divided highway, drivers proceeding in the direction opposite to that of the bus need not stop, the commissioner said.

The meeting, which was preceded by lunch, ended with members exchanging gifts.

San Mateo County golf fans are in for a rare treat on Thursday, January 12, when Ken Venturi, Dutch Harrison, Bud Ward, and John Raitt, the famed TV and movie star, will stage an exhibition golf match at Peninsula Golf and Country Club in San Mateo.

"The public in invited, admission is free, and the foursome will tee off about 12:30 p.m." it was announced today by Dennis Hession and Mrs. Frank B. Ingersoll Jr., San Mateo County Co-Chairmen for the Lucky International $58,000 golf tournament, January 23 to 29.

The local exhibition, explained Hession and Mrs. Ingersoll, is to create interest in the Lucky Tournament scheduled for Harding Park, San Francisco. Season tickets are now being sold here for $10 which later will cost $20. The season ducats are transferable daily.

All sales locally go towards the benefit of the San Mateo County Society for Crippled Children and Adults who operate in the big Rehabilitation and Research Center at 1764 Marco Polo Way, Burlingame, where hundreds of children and adults alike are given therapy to enable them to assist themselves towards a normal life.

Another guest at the event on January 12 will be Eugene Selvage, president of the Lucky Lager Brewing company, who is sponsoring the tournament for the benefit of Bay Area chapters of the Crippled Childrens Society.

Teen Fight Upsets Dance

A band of teenagers, arriving from a nearby party, interrupted a church dance New Year's weekend, and set off what police describe as a full-scale gang fight.

Rena Urie, 22, advisor and chaperone for the teen dance at Grace Presbyterian Church December 30, said the fracas was provoked by seven boys, aged 13 to 15, who had been the guests of a mutual girl friend living in the neighborhood.

Two bystanders, aged 15 and 19 and apparently not involved, reported the incident to police at 10 p.m. just after the trouble started. The youths responsible were brought to the police station and sternly reprimanded.

Burglars Smash Theater Booth, Take Tickets

The ticket booth of Mission Drive-In Theater was broken into early last week and 13 rolls of admission tickets stolen.

The theft, reported by Margaret Koch, 26, theater manager, occurred Monday sometime between 1:30 p.m. and 2:15. Miss Koch advised that all rolls were worthless, save one, which represented $78 in potential ticket sales.

Police have recorded the ticket series numbers involved, and have alerted attendents at both the Mission Theater and Geneva Theater, 2150 Geneva avenue—where the tickets are also valid—to be on the lookout for holders of the stolen coupons.

Sleeping Pills Fell Westlaker

A 24-year-old Westlake housewife is resting comfortably after swallowing an estimated 10 sleeping pills New Years Day morning.

Police called to the scene found the victim, Mrs. Kirstin Syafy at her 866 Higate drive residence, in a semi-conscious state. She was rushed to Junipero Hospital where a lavage was performed.

Mrs. Syafy's husband could give no reason for her actions, but conceded to police that "they had not been getting along any too well lately."

World War I Group Wants More Members

The January meeting of World War I Barracks and Auxiliary No. 1620 of Daly City will be held Tuesday, January 17, at 7:30 p.m. in War Memorial Community Center Building, Mission and Alps streets.

It is the desire of the Barracks and Auxiliary to enroll many new members during the month of January, so all World War I Veterans, their wives, daughters, mothers and sisters are invited to attend, spokesman W. R. Stagg urged.

Apt. House Tenant Reports Double Theft

Sharon R. Butler, 21, of 725 Hillside boulevard, has reported to Daly City police that she was the victim of burglary twice over the past two months.

The young woman claims that between November 13 and 23 several items, including personal clothing, men's shirts and women's blouses, totaling $25 in value, were taken from her apartment house laundry room. Then, between December 16 and 26, while she was away on vacation, someone removed a leather suitcase containing summer clothing. The second loss amounted to $322.

Police believe the laundry room may have been left unlocked during both periods.

WORKERS' TOOLS STOLEN FROM SCHOOL SITE

Burglars broke into a Sunnyvale contractor's tool shed situated on the Christopher Columbus School site and escaped with $350 in tools and equipment.

The theft, reported only recently by Denver Bradford of the firm of Harrod & Williams, Sunnyvale, apparently occurred sometime over the New Years weekend.

The equipment, a portion of which belonged to Bradford himself, included saws, an electric grinder, measuring tapes, files, planes and an axe—all left in a tool box.

Police Corner W'lake Burglars

Two San Francisco salesmen, after several rounds of drinks in a Leavenworth street bar, staged an unsuccessful burglary in Westlake early New Year's Eve.

The efforts of Benvenu E. Bucalos, 35, and Clarence L. Nuxoll, 29, were foiled after they arrived at 70 Oaklawn drive, with the intention of entering an apartment, presumably occupied by a friend of Nuxoll.

The occupant of an adjacent apartment, Mary F. Lawson, told police later that she was aroused at 1:30 p.m. by a "rumpus" next door and peeked through her blinds to see two men trying to gain entry to the other apartment. Later, she said, she saw them emerge with a television set and an electric clock. Mrs. Lawson noted the suspects' car as they drove away, then called Daly City police.

Officers Les Bastedo and John van Otten arrived in time to corner Bucalos and Nuxoll on nearby Northgate court, a dead-end street.

After unsuccessfully trying to convince the officers that he had come to visit his former wife (this story was disproven when Bastedo called the apartment rental office), Nuxoll then said he and Bucalos were in search of an "old friend." When they rang the bell and found him away from home, the two men, according to Nuxoll, decided to climb through a window.

After they had forced their way in, they went to the refrigerator to find something to drink.

"We didn't find a bottle," Nuxoll explained. "So we decided to take something else." The television set and clock lay on the back seat of the culprits' car.

Buscalos' version of the story was that, after spending the morning with Nuxoll in a Leavenworth street bar, the latter had suggested paying a call on his wife.

"Then I fell asleep," Buscalos said. "I didn't remember anything until you cops came. I didn't even notice the T-V and clock."

Both men were arrested for burglary.

In a letter of commendation to Mrs. Lawson, Daly City chief of police Roland A. Petrocchi writes:

Dear Mrs. Lawson:

"We wish to commend you for your prompt action in calling our department on December 31st at 1:55 p.m. when you observed unusual activity at Apartment No. 2. We have had numerous incidents of similar nature in this city and have been unable to apprehend the perpetrators because the witness failed to telephone us.

It is through your efforts that we were able to apprehend the perpetrators in this case and they are presently awaiting trial.

We only hope that more citizens will take an act of interest in their community and incidents which might jeopardize the health and safety of the people."

STATE ESTIMATES

Daly City Can Expect $583,800 From Sales Tax Next Fiscal Year

San Mateo ecame the 56th county in California to contract for state collection of sales and use taxes on January 1.

Only Plumas and Siskiyou counties and their nine cities remain outside the program.

The ordinances of the 16 cities in San Mateo County contain a 95 per cent sales tax rate. The adoption of this rate will raise the amount of sales tax revenue which the county can anticipate in the 1961-62 fiscal year from $1,519,350 to $1,835,000, according to George R. Reilly, First District member of the State Board of Equalization.

For fiscal '61-'62, Daly City can expect a net sales and use tax revenue of $583,800, according to the state, San Mateo, largest city in the county, will realize $1,307,700. Redwood City's amount will approximate $897,850.

Reilly explained that San Mateo County and its cities will start receiving sales tax revenue from the Board of Equalization about May 20 under a special procedure designed to accelerate the transmittal of local tax collections to cities and counties.

The charge for collecting local sales taxes was recently reduced to $1.50 per hundred dollars of collection.

Other cities and expected sales tax revenue for fiscal '61-'62:

BAHA'IS CONGREGATE

'World Religion Day' Observance At DC Center This Friday Night

"World Religion Day" will be observed Friday, January 13, by the Baha'is of Daly City and approximately 1500 Baha'i centers in the United States.

Sponsored by the Baha'i World Faith, its purpose is "to spread the knowledge of the fundamentals common to the world's great religions as the bedrock for universal peace."

"The day is coming," according to the Baha'i World Faith," when all religions will unite. As the Christian or Jew, of instance, distinguishes the fundamentals of his own faith from its outward forms and man-made rituals, he will sense the same fundamentals in other world religions. This knowledge will enable him to close ranks in his own religion and unite with those in other religions in acknowledging and serving God in one common faith.

"This process of uniting mankind, is and always has been the very nature of religion. The word itself means to realign... to bind together again... the hearts and minds of men. Today this process must be world-encircling. How else can we build a foundation firm enough for universal peace?"

The local observance of World Religion Day will be held at the Coral Room of Daly City War Memorial Community Center, at 8 p.m. this Friday. The public is invited to hear William W. Munson, teacher of sociology, who will speak on "Peace Through Faith."

Vista Mar School Kindergarteners In Science Study

Kindergarten boys and girls at Vista Mar School are having their first experience with paper mache. Snowmen are being "sculptured." Cold and frosty mornings appear to be a fine stimulus for this activity, teachers report. Certain academic concepts—many dealing with science, such as climate—are being keyed to the seasonal weather and discussed with great interest.

Among other activities at Vista Mar was a visit to San Mateo County Junior Museum's Naturemobile. Each class in the school visited the mobile. The trip was designed to stimulate the children's interest in the scientific world.

Students were able to see eight interesting dioramas on life related to the earth, nature's balance, graduation from the simple to the complex forms of life, theories of evolution, animal adaptations and panoramic views of local bird life. This visit will provide students with an incentive to return to the San Mateo County Junior Museum at Coyote Point.

The Snolands, who came to Daly City two years ago, have a daughter, Nancy Lynn, 5, and a son, Steven John, 3.

Rapid Transit Aide Says System Would Increase Property Values, Stimulate Redevelopment Projects

Construction of the proposed Bay Area rapid transit system can result in dramatic increases in property values, according to Keneth M. Hoover, chief engineer of the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Hoover made that statement in summing up a report to the district's board of directors on a joint study made by the district's engineering consultants and the Planning Department of the city of Berkeley. Subject of the study was rapid transit's possible effect on Berkeley's tax base.

"Many communities have over-emphasized what I shall call the 'negative' aspects of rapid transit facilities. In my opinion, they have failed to appreciate fully 'postive" benefits effects that these facilities will have on their communities.

"I refer not only to the tremendous benefits rapid transit will bring directly through increased accessibility, but also to the opportunities it will present to many communities for redevelopment and renewal projects in conjunction with the construction of transit facilities.

"Our study determined that the assessed valuation of the land and improvements required for rapid transit facilities in Berkeley, excluding the parking areas at stations, is $370,000," Hoover said. "This figure represents the assessed value of total parcels, and we did not make an estimate for the assessed value of the portions of many of these parcels that can be returned to the tax roll.

"The study took into account only a four-block stretch along Hearst avenue where we propose to acquire land to permit widening of the street and construction of aerial rapid transit facilities," Hoover explained.

In this area, he said, the Berkeley Planning Department envisions that portions of parcels not utilized for construction can be redeveloped for multiple residential dwelling units. Members of the Berkeley planning staff constructed a model showing how the area would look in its redeveloped state.

"Our study showed that assessed valuations for the multiple residential development as envisioned by the Berkeley planners would result in an assessed valuation for this area of $420,000. This, therefore, would more than offset the loss of assessed valuation due to right-of-way acquisitions along the entire route in Berkeley, with the exception of areas required for parking."

Base for the studies, Hoover said, was the documented appreciation of land values which has occurred in Toronto following construction of rapid transit in that city. In Toronto, assessed values in subdivisions through which the rapid transit system passes increased 37 per cent in five years, while assessed values in the remainder of the city showed an increase of 20 per cent.

"The difference of 17 per cent is attributed directly to the increased accessibility provided by rapid transit," Hoover said, adding: "It is only reasonable to expect a gain in assessed valuations in areas tributory to the rapid transit system in the Bay area."

To determine the property tax effect of land acquisition for parking at the Berkeley transit stations, the rapid transit engineers and Berkeley planners computed the assessed valuation of all property that will remain within a walking distance of three blocks from the three stations.

"The study showed," Hoover said, "that an increase in the valuation of this property of less than four per cent would more than offset the valuation loss due to parking requirements. In all probability, the increase in valuations will be considerably greater than four per cent."

Built-in SAFETY with

CONDUIT

When Alex McCabe decided on a new home, he unhesitatingly told his builder, Peter Nichols of Burlingame, to use conduit for the electrical wiring. He knows that electric wires encased in metal pipes form a perfectly grounded system that is the best possible insurance against fire or failure. He wanted the same safety for his home that is required by law for apartment houses and public and commercial buildings.

Alex McCabe, a former electrician and now owner of the Apex Electric Company and the Apex Neon Sign Corporation, made the same decision as increasing numbers of home owners: conduit for the extra safety and extra value it builds into a home. And, being an electrician, he ordered 200-ampere service and adequate circuits for a future workshop.

Mr. McCabe is getting the best from his electrical contractor. So can you. Insist upon conduit for your home's wiring.

Indians Launch Title Quest Against Burlingame

SPORTS

INDIANS ALL THE WAY?

Capuchino Beats Jeff For Peninsula League Tourney Title, 53-43

A team that could rank with the "greatest" in the history of Jefferson High will tip-off Peninsula League action this Friday night in the Indians' gym when Coach Mike Orlich's Daly City cagers meet unrated Burlingame.

Rich Warne's Jeff lightweights open the doubleheader at 7:30 p.m., and a capacity crowd is expected to watch Orlich's varsity, co-favored with Capuchino for the league championship.

Capuchino, led by prolific Randy Rothman, defeated Jeff, 53-43, Saturday to win the Peninsula League tournament title at Hillsdale. The Indians advanced to the finals—as expected — by beating Hillsdale, 30-28, and Mills, 62-53, as Orlich's well-balanced quint flashed the kind of form that could take them all the way.

But to give Orlich one of his "best" teams, high-scoring Gary Molossi, league scoring champ last year, and his mates this season will have to outlast one of the finest Capuchino teams in the history of the San Bruno school.

Cap led Jeff all the way in the showdown Saturday. It was 25-21 at halftime, and 40-31 opening the final quarter. All-Tourney guard Randy Rothman destroyed Jeff with 17 points. Forward Sonny Stoller led the Indians with 5 field goals and 6 free throws for 16. Molossi got loose for only 7 points, guard Bobby With also had 7, while forward Alan Lee and 6-4 center Hiram Sibley each had 6 for Jeff.

In the tourney opener, Jeff was led by Sibley with 8 against Hillsdale in a law-scoring encounter. Molossi had 7 points and With 5.

The next day the Indians unloaded their guns, rolling to a 30-17 intermission lead, but then falling behind 42-40 as the third quarter ended. It took a genuine "team" effort from then on to pull the game out for Jeff as Lee, Molossi, Stoller and With rallied with timely buckets. Lee wound up with 14 points. Molossi, Stoller and With each had 13.

Burlingame this Friday here will have their hands full. The invaders, sparked by Roger Bailey, lost in tourney play to Hillsdale, 33-26, and to Mills, 29-25.

Molossi and Lee were honored on the All-Tourney team, composed of 10 players. Other choices were Rothman and Greg Rogers of Cap, Bob Griggs of San Mateo, Terry Christman of Westmoor, John Stosher of Hillsdale, Dick Drake of South City, Jerry Bengson of Mills, and Burlingame's Bailey.

Orlich's lineup for the opener will find Stoller and Lee at forwards, Sibley at center, and With and Molossi at guards. Stoller and With led the league in 130's scoring last season. Molossi was the Peninsual's leading pointmaker, posting a 16.8 points per game average in 1960.

Orlich's reserves this time are high caliber. He can call on seniors Mike Kennedy, Bill Sarris and Jeff Vozzo, juniors Bob Brush and Richard Reitz, and sophs Ron Goo, Larry Keeling and Dan Boden.

Present Jeff Squad Has The Potential

The current edition of Jefferson High's varsity could prove as good as the "best" teams Coach Mike Orlich has produced at the Daly City school. The '53 Jefferson club, led by Don Delbon, Wally Honeywell and Larry Blanchard, captured the Peninsula League title with a 12-0 record. In '54, Orlich's squad tied with Capuchino for the Northern Peninsula championship, then lost in the playoff game. In '58, Dennis Marc, Gary Ryan and Barry Haanen gave Jeff a 12-2 league record. And the present team . . .?

Toni Pinelli Leads Keglers

By Bob Sexton

Last week at Swanson's Westlake Bowl the bantams stole the spotlight from the older junior league bowlers as Toni Pinelli, who has been "threatening" with near-big scores for a number of months, finally hit the limelight!

The big attraction was a 200 game for the pert 12-year-old bantam. Toni's second game was a most respectable 143 to give her a 343 two-game series. This should rate Toni some mention in the American Junior Bowling Congress magazine, "Prep Pin Patter."

Trying very hard to keep up with Toni was Nancy Swanson, daughter of Westlake Bowl's proprietor. Nancy registered her first 304 two-game series in this league. Her games were 140-164.

In the junior girls department, Judy Vlahovich climber to the top of the hill with her 141-156-131 for a 428 series. For the second week in a row newcomer Lee Baldelli led the high game event with her 174.

It appears that the new sennior boys Peterson Point trio league is sure to be a big hit with the older fellows who enjoy the fast style of the trio league.

Topping the league was Ken Erickson's 163-189-212 — 564 series. Behind Ken were Steve Funai with 176-171-212—559, Carl Steigerwald 157-178-202—537, Frank Blum 199-173-153—525, Dick Rentschler 199-169-156—524, Bill Wilhelm 145-193-176 — 514, and Randy Wilcox 161-180-169—510.

Sports-Boat Show At Cow Palace One Of World's 'Best'

The 17th edition of the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show will take over all six buildings for the first time —a total of 400,000 square feet of exhibition space—at the vast Cow Palace, February 3 through 12.

The huge San Francisco marine exposition is ranked as one of the world's five great shows, and second in size nationally.

Thomas Rooney, manager of the San Francisco show for 15 years, declared:

"This year's outdoor exposition will feature 400 exhibition booths, more than ever before, and a 33⅓ per cent increase over last year," said Rooney. For the first time the large New York Boat Show exhibitors will move directly to the San Francisco Cow Palace following the close of the big East Coast event in January.

Last year's show was visited by over 300,000 outdoorsmen, boating enthusiasts, and their families from the eleven western States.

The booming family interest in boats, fishing, hunting, camping and all outdoor activities in the West is expected to boost this year's attendance to a new record high.

Doors will be open weekdays from 2 p.m. until 11 p.m.; Saturdays from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m.; and Sundays from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

San Francisco has a consolidated city and county government with legislative powers vested in a board of eleven supervisors.

'61 Fishing Licenses Are Now On Sale

Fishing licenses for 1961 are now on sale throughout California by license agents and Department of Fish & Game offices. The basic license is $3, and is for ocean fishing only. Addition of one stamp entitles the buyer to fish for anything in inland waters except trout, but including steelhead. A second stamp permits all kinds of angling, including trout fishing. The stamps cost $1 apiece and are of different colors this year. The inland stamp is brown and the trout stamp green. It is hoped to obtain a census of trout anglers by use of the different colors.

There are other types of fishting licenses—a $1 license good for three days of ocean fishing, to which no stamps may be affixed; a $3 ten-day nonresident license, good for ocean fishing and, with stamps, inland angling, and a $10 annual nonresident license, which also requires stamps for inland waters.

Hunters Asked To 'Spare' Those Swans

Department of Fish & Game wardens report nine convictions for shooting or possessing swans were obtained in November and December of 1960 in northern and central california. All swans are totally protected birds.

The nine men paid fines ranging from $10 to $200. The ten dollar fine was assessed on a man who said he had never been waterfowl hunting before and throught swans were white geese.

Hunters are warned that the swan is the largest water game bird seen in California and, unlike geese, has no markings, so hunters should not fire at large, completely white waterfowl, or, for that matter, as one warden remarked, "don't fire at anything you can't identify."

There have been numerous cases of killing canvasback ducks, too, it was noted, and these birds are totally protected this year.

WESTMOOR 5 'UNPREDICTABLE'

South City Cagers Due Friday Night As Rams Open Basketball Race

Gary Allard, a 6-3 junior transfer from St. Ignatius, will start at center this Friday night when Westmoor High's heightlacking Ram cagers open the Peninsula League campaign against South San Francisco.

The Ram and Warrior lightweights open the program at 7:30 p.m. in the Westmoor gym. Harry Brown leads Coach Byron Van Alstyne's Ram 130-pounders.

Allard, according to Coach Tony Giammona, "looked very good on the boards in last week's tourney at Hillsdale, and I've moved him into the starting lineup to give us some altitude."

Senior forward Barry Krohn and guard Terry Christman anchor the Westmoor attack. Senior Ron Schaeffer teams with Krohn, and junior Steve Payette will be at the other guard.

South City, paced by Dick Drake, finished third in the Peninsula League tourney last week, beating Mills in the final round of action. Capuchino won the tourney via successive wins over Westmoor, 43-30; SSF, 57-39, and Jefferson of Daly City, 53-43.

Christman, who got 17 points in the tourney, 9 against Capuchino and 8 against San Mateo (Rams lost 48-43), was selected on the All-Tourney team. Krohn had 19 points in the two games. Barry missed half of the San Mateo game, fouling out mid-way in the contest. Schaeffer was playing with a bad shoulder.

South City, no match for Capuchino in the first round, impressed with wins over San Mateo, 34-31, and Mills. As usual, the Warriors play a rugged brand of ball.

Other Peninsula League openers this Friday find Burlingame at Jeff, Mills at Capuchino, and Hillsdale at San Mateo.

Capuchino, paced by Randy Rothman and possessing the most height in the circuit, is favored for the league championship. Giammona thinks Jefferson is the only team that might overtake Capuchino.

"Cap has just about everything this year, but don't count out Jeff with Gary Molossi."

Molossi and teammate Alan Lee also were honored on the All-Tourney team last week.

30 BOYS ROLL IN BANTAM BOWLING LOOP

Last Saturday approximately 30 bantam boys (9 years and under) turned out at Westlake Bowl for what is believed to be something new in the realm of junior bowling.

The league is composed of eight 4-man teams. Each lane has a senior or junior boy or girl bowler of high character and bowling skill. Each lane is also provided with a scorekeeper. Fifteen minutes before the actual competition begins, the program director gives instruction in scoring, manners on the lane, equipment best for their level of skill, and the basics of beginning bowling. The older and more skilled and experienced bowlers act as junior instructors. This gives the youngsters an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with some of the better junior bowlers at Westlake and the instructors a chance to broaden their base by helping the youngster develop his skills.

"It was nothing... just a fire in the stove"

Are you sure that's all it was, Jim? You know, we might look at it as an exciting demonstration of municipal bonds at work!

Remember voting for the bond issue to build a new firehouse several years ago? At the time you said, "This is going to cost me money, but I guess we've got to have it." Then, when you renewed your fire insurance and found the rate was lower, you were pleased.

Think of what you saved today, Jim! Insurance money can't replace what you came near losing. Fortunately, the fire was nothing because municipal bonds gave your community the cash to put engines, equipment and firefighters near your house.

The Bank of America and its associated investment dealers bid on virtually all municipal bonds issued in the State because we have confidence in the future of California and communities like yours. These bonds finance fire-fighting equipment, schools, city government buildings, water and sewage facilities, etc.

Do you know what we at Bank of America do with the municipal bonds we buy? We add some of them to our own investment portfolio—and make the rest available for purchase. No one knows better than you do—living right there on the scene—what a sound investment they are!

If you'd like to make an investment in your community secured by its business, industry and by your neighbors, we suggest municipal bonds issued in your area. They're available in denominations of $1,000, pay you a good return and the income you receive is tax free. The manager of your local branch of the Bank of America will be glad to give you full information, or you may write to
